Post-War Clearance

Character summary

Large open area set on the eastern edge of the airfield, north of the Parade Ground. It originally contained accommodation buildings, garages and storage areas which have all been demolished. Original paths and roads survive as well as occasional landscaping, building footings and lampposts, giving the area an abandoned feel.

Period: Expansion Period & WWII

Form: An open area previously occupied by junior ranks' accommodation, garages and utility buildings

Buildings: No buildings, several areas of hardstanding

Survival: Integrity of plan form compromised

Condition: No refurbishment possible

Complexity: Single use and abandonment

Management opportunities

The opportunities and management issues presented by this Character Area relate to it's potential for redevelopment.

The opportunities are as follows:

- Redevelopment of the area to bring it back into use as part of the base.
- Ensure original layout and paths/landscaping are retained in the context of any redevelopment, wherever possible.
- Ensure recording of the original layout of the area prior to alteration.
- Ensure development takes account of possible buried archaeological potential.
- Investigate opportunities for community engagement in recording or archaeological work.

Character summary

A primary school built for the children of RAF personnel in 1961. The building, typical of 1960s primary school design, is low-rise with flat roof and large windows, prefabricated extensions and informal shape, set within a playground

- Period: Cold War
- Form: Planned cluster of single-storey school buildings.
- Buildings: School complex, brick-built
- Survival: As built
- Condition: Maintained for use
- Complexity: Continuous single use, historic to present

Management opportunities

This Character Area is no longer part of RAF Scampton and as such is not subject to any proposed development plans. Management opportunities have therefore not been identified here.
